

Watch on Aliens

Bury Times and Guardian, May 1940

Although Bury is not included in the area affected by the new regulation calling for the internment of every German and Austrian male subject between the ages of sixteen and sixty, supervision is being maintained on the movements of aliens in the locality.

At the beginning of the war all aliens were registered, and they have made periodical visits to the police.

Meanwhile a close watch is being kept on the position and if it so happens that new regulations are brought into being which will apply to Bury, those affected can be speedily and effectively dealt with.
